What are Federal Funds?

Federal funds are funds, authorized by the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 (ESEA) as amended by the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), and other federal education legislation, that are allocated to the states via the United States Department of Education (USDE) or through other federal agencies.

These funds are distributed through different title programs in the law and each have their own specific guidance concerning intent and purpose and the allowability of expenditures.

Title I

Title I is to provide all children significant opportunity to receive a fair, equitable, and high-quality education, and to close the educational achievement gaps.

Title I was designed to offset the effects of poverty on educational opportunities for low-performing, high-poverty schools.

Title I, Part A

School Sites receiving Title I, Part A funds are classified as either “Targeted Assistance Sites” or “Schoolwide Sites”

→ ALL Guthrie schools are “Schoolwide Sites”
